Gardeners Group

GARDENING AT PULLENVALE HALL

You might have noticed a pretty purple flowering shrub in the bed near the Caravan Cafe. Polygala Little Bibi is one of the dwarf varieties of this hardy, long flowering, evergreen shrub. Little Bibi flowers almost all year, is easy to grow and thrives with minimal water once established. It's also great to pick, as the flowers last well in a vase.. It likes full sun and can be left to grow naturally (as the ones at the hall have been) or pruned for a more formal look. If you have a sunny, well drained spot in your garden you might like to try planting Little Bibi, Alternately it grows well in containers and would brighten up a courtyard or sunny verandah.

Our team of enthusiastic volunteers continue to keep the gardens looking great, weeding, cutting back and generally tidying up the flower beds. If you enjoy gardening, being outdoors and meeting people you are welcome to join. Please contact Helen on enquiries@pullenvalehall.com. In March we will meet at 7am on Tuesday 7th and Tuesday 21st. BYO gardening tools and stay for a chat over coffee at the Curious Caravan cafe.
